

Contents

Special issue: Tobacco Control in NSW

- | | |
|---|---|
| 45 Good progress in tobacco control in NSW
Introduces the issue, describing the continuing initiatives in tobacco control in NSW that address disadvantaged populations and the introduction of smoke-free environments.
John M. Sanders, Chris E. Rissel 47 Social costs of tobacco-related disease, and best buys
Introduces a recent report by Collins and Lapsley that describes the financial and social costs of tobacco in NSW
John M. Sanders 48 The Greater Southern Area Health Service Tobacco Control Plan 2006–2009
Describes the local response of an area health service to the NSW Tobacco Action Plan 2005–2009
Andrew J. Gow, Kylie M. Weir, Andrew J. N. Marich 50 Provision of smoking care in NSW Hospitals: opportunities for further enhancement
Describes smoking-care provisions in NSW public hospitals and strategies to increase provision.
Megan A. G. Freund, Elizabeth M. Campbell, Christine L. Paul, John H. Wiggers, Jenny J. Knight, Elayne N. Mitchell 56 Enabling the NSW Health workforce to provide evidence-based smoking-cessation advice through competency-based training delivered via video conferencing
Describes the development of national competency standards in smoking cessation and their delivery and assessment through a telehealth network
Elayne N. Mitchell, Barbara N. Hawkshaw, Carlie-Jane Naylor, Dias Soewido, John M. Sanders 60 Smoke Free Health Care: an organisational change to increase effective intervention for tobacco
Describes the Northern Coast Area Health Service organisational change required to successfully implement smoke-free status around its facilities.
Annie M. Kia, Eric K. van Beurden, Gavin S. Dart, Cecily C. Barrack, Mark D. Mitchell | 65 Tobacco and Aboriginal people in NSW
Summarises the evidence for interventions to reduce the harm from tobacco use by Aboriginal people in NSW.
Rowena G. Ivers 68 Smokers respond to anti-tobacco mass media campaigns in NSW by calling the Quitline
Anti-tobacco television advertising generates an increase in calls to Quitline.
Trish Cotter, Donna A. Perez, Anita L. Dessaix, James F. Bishop 72 The Mull Hypothesis: is cannabis use contributing to high tobacco use prevalence among young North Coast males?
Proposes that mixing cannabis with tobacco may contribute to tobacco dependence.
Eric K. van Beurden, Avigdor Zask, Megan Passey, Annie M. Kia 75 Tobacco smoking among secondary school students in NSW
Introduces the NSW School Students Health Behaviours Survey: 2005 report.
Michael Giffin, Margot Eyeson-Annan |
|---|---|

Regular features

Bug Breakfast in the Bulletin

- 76 Infectious diseases in homeless people
Sian Rudge, Ian Webster, Ingrid van Beek

Communicable Diseases Report, NSW

- 78 January and February 2008