

178 Editorials*From the Editor

- 178 The same but completely different
Susan Dovey

- 179 Erratum: Viewpoint article in our March 2015 issue—author details

Guest Editorial

- 180 General practitioners gatekeepers for referral but neurosurgeons gatekeepers for investigations
Garry Nixon

182 Original Scientific Papers*Quantitative Research

- 182 The distribution and frequency of blood lipid testing by sociodemographic status among adults in Auckland, New Zealand
Daniel Exeter, Lauren Moss, Jinfeng Zhao, Cam Kyle, Tania Riddell, Rod Jackson, Susan Wells
- 192 The Green Prescription Active Families programme in Taranaki, New Zealand 2007–2009: Did it reach children in need?
Yvonne Anderson, Greg Taylor, Cameron Grant, Ross Fulton, Paul Hofman
- 198 Optimising neurosurgical outpatient care: a paradigm shift?
Ameya Kamat, Andrew Parker
- 204 General practitioner awareness of sexual orientation among a community and internet sample of gay and bisexual men in New Zealand
Adrian Ludlam, Peter Saxton, Nigel Dickson, Anthony Hughes
- 213 The patient perspective on a first raised PSA test
Charis Brown, Fraser Hodgson, Zuzana Obertova, Michael Holmes, Ross Lawrenson

Qualitative Research

- 221 The impact of non-motor manifestations of Parkinson's disease on partners: understanding and application of chronic sorrow theory
Christine Mercer

- 228 Culturally and linguistically diverse patients' views of multimorbidity and general practice care

Eileen McKinlay, Stewart Graham, Pauline Horrill

- 236 Nursing roles and responsibilities in general practice: three case studies

Léonie Walker, Jill Clendon, Katherine Nelson

Short Report

- 244 Doctors' attitudes and confidence towards providing nutrition care in practice: Comparison of New Zealand medical students, general practice registrars and general practitioners

Jennifer Crowley, Lauren Ball, Dug Yeo Han, Anne-Thea McGill, Bruce Arroll, Michael Leveritt, Clare Wall

251 Back to Back

- 251 General practitioners should allow use of anonymised patient records for research
Yes: Sharon Leitch; No: Katharine Wallis

255 Continuing Professional Development

- 255 String of PEARLS about older patients
- 256 Nuggets of Knowledge: Skin infection? Avoid topical antibiotics
Linda Bryant
- 258 Cochrane Corner: Calcium intake and reducing blood pressure
Vanessa Jordan
- 259 Potion or Poison? Olive leaf
Nataly Martini

260 Viewpoint

- 260 Challenges in the doctor–patient relationship: 12 tips for more effective peer group discussion
Hamish Wilson

264 About the Journal of Primary Health Care