

283 Editorial

From the Editor

- 283 Trauma and the art of medicine
S. Dovey

Guest editorial

- 285 Broken bodies and broken minds: the need for a general practice approach post trauma
K. Eggleton

287 Medical arts

- 287 The therapeutic relationship
P. Stanley

288 Ethics

- 288 Research using electronic health records: balancing confidentiality and public good
K. A. Wallis, K. S. Eggleton, S. M. Dovey, S. Leitch, W. K. Cunningham, M. I. Williamson

292 Original Scientific Papers

Original research: Clinical

- 292 Psychiatric comorbidities in adult survivors of major trauma: findings from the Midland Trauma Registry
E. E. Spijker, K. Jones, J. W. Duijff, A. Smith, G. R. Christey

Original research: Clinical

- 303 Deprivation and inequalities lead to worse outcomes with dabigatran etexilate
B. H. Simpson, D. Reith, N. J. Medlicott, A. Smith

Original research: Clinical

- 312 Clinical management of idiopathic mastalgia: a systematic review
S. P. Hafiz, N. L. P. Barnes, C. C. Kirwan

Original research: Rural

- 324 Rural point-of-care ultrasound of the kidney and bladder: quality and effect on patient management
G. Nixon, K. Blattner, J. Muirhead, N. Kerse

Original research: Health Services

- 331 Thinking about health care differently: nurse practitioners in primary health care as social entrepreneurs
A. Kirkman, J. Wilkinson, S. Scahill

Original research: Short Report

- 338 Patients' reasons for seeking traditional Chinese medicine: a qualitative study
A. Patel, Y. Chen

Case study

- 343 Acute progressive neurological decline in an elderly man
T. Burley, M. Ross, R. Elliott, M. Tall

Original research: Short Report

- 348 Pulsus trigeminy and electrolyte derangements: a forgotten primary care presentation
S. S. Y. Wang, G. W.-G. Tang, G. Williams

352 Continuing Professional Development

Cochrane Corner

- 352 Probiotics: make little or no difference in patient rated symptoms for eczema
V. Jordan

Potion or Poison?

- 354 Amygdalin
N. Martini