

Special Issue - Hybridisation in health systems: Balancing business and care

183 Editorial

Guest editorial

183 Business of Care: Global perspectives

Fiona Doolan-Noble, Richard Greatbanks, Carol Atmore

Original research: Health services

185 Cheques and challenges: business performance in New Zealand general practice

Richard Greatbanks, Fiona Doolan-Noble, Alex McKenna

Viewpoint

191 Through the looking glass: the perspective of a nurse and practice manager-owned general practice

Kathy Hines, Rose Ruddle

Viewpoint

193 Not-for-profit health services and hybridisation

Ben Gray

Viewpoint

197 Releasing the potential of nursing

Jenny Carryer

Viewpoint

200 Navigating payer heterogeneity in the United States: lessons for primary care

Winston Liaw, Daniel McCorry, Andrew Bazemore

Viewpoint

204 English general practice: once, twice, three times a hybrid

Robin Miller

Viewpoint

208 Exploration of funding models to support hybridisation of Australian primary health care organisations

Sandeep Reddy

Original research: Health services

212 Do out-of-hours general practitioner services and emergency departments cost more by collaborating or by working separately? A cost analysis

Sjoerd Broekman, Elisabeth Van Gils-Van Rooij, Berthold Meijboom, Dingenus De Bakker, Christoffel Yzermans

Viewpoint

220 General practice evolution in New Zealand: hybridisation in action

Carol Atmore

Quality Improvement Report

225 Pegasus Health Pastoral Care Programme

Caroline Christie, Simon Wynn-Thomas, Bianca McKinnon

Viewpoint

230 From good to great: the potential for the Health Care Home model to improve primary health care quality in New Zealand

Martin Hefford