

Supplementary material

Difference in the trophic structure of fish communities between artificial and natural habitats in a tropical estuary

Pedro Henrique Cipresso Pereira^{A,C}, Marcus Vinicius Bezerra dos Santos^{B,C}, Daniel Lino Lippi^{B,C},
Pedro Henrique de Paula Silva^C and Breno Barros^D

^ASchool of Marine and Tropical Biology, James Cook University, 2/2 Eden Street, Belgian Gardens, Townsville, Qld 4810, Australia.

^BUniversidade Federal de Pernambuco (UFPE), Departamento de Oceanografia, CTG Avenida Arquitetura, s/n, Cidade Universitária, 50670-901, Recife, PE, Brazil.

^CReef Conservation Project – Projeto Conservação Recifal, Departamento de Oceanografia, CTG Avenida Arquitetura, s/n, Cidade Universitária, 50670-901, Recife, PE, Brazil.

^DUniversidade Federal do Pará, Instituto de Estudos Costeiros, Alameda Leandro Ribeiro, s/n, Aldeia, CEP 68600-000 Bragança, Pará, Brazil.

^ECorresponding author. Email: pedro.pereira@my.jcu.edu.au

Fig. S1. The supplementary video highlights different fish trophic guilds associated with each one of the estuarine natural or artificial habitats. This is available as an online video (see <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sdhyme6SYOc>).