

10.1071/PC15030_AC

© CSIRO 2016

Pacific Conservation Biology 22 (1), 48-60

Supplementary Material

Camera traps in the canopy: surveying wildlife at tree hollow entrances

Nigel Cotsell^{A,B,C} and Karl Vernes^B

^ACoffs Harbour City Council, Biodiversity Unit, 2 Castle Street, Coffs Harbour, NSW 2450,

Australia. ^BUniversity of New England, Ecosystem Management, Armidale, NSW 2351, Australia.

^CCorresponding author. Email: nigelcotsell@gmail.com

A selection of arboreal wildlife images:

Camera trap results at tree hollow entrances: north-east NSW

Plate 1. Yellow-bellied glider Petaurus australis – Corindi Cemetery

Plate 2. Squirrel glider Petaurus norfolcensis – Barcoongere Way

ScoutGuard

11.02.2013 01:56:31

Plate 3. Brush-tailed phascogale Phascogale tapoatafa – Barcoongere Way

Plate 4. Lace monitor Varanus varius – Orara East State Forest

Plate 5. Brown tree snake Boiga irregularis – Barcoongere Way

Plate 6. Laughing kookaburra Dacelo novaeguinea – Orara East State Forest

Plate 7. Regent bowerbird Sericulus chrysocephalus – Swans Road

Plate 8. Dollarbird Eurystomus orientalis - Showground