

Australian Journal of Primary Health

CONTENTS Volume 15 • Issue 4 • 2009

SPECIAL ISSUE PART 2: PARTNERSHIPS IN PRIMARY HEALTH CARE

EDITORIAL 261

FORUM

Interorganisational and interprofessional partnership approaches to achieve more coordinated and integrated primary and community health services: the Australian experience

Julie McDonald, Gawaine Powell Davies and Mark Fort Harris 262

LETTERS

You can take your hat off

Lee Kennedy 270

Integrating local health planning: using partnerships to address health inequalities

Alison Coelho 272

Primary health care and climate change

Peter Tait 274

PRACTICE & INNOVATION

Climate change and primary health care intervention framework

Rae Walker and South East Healthy Communities Partnership 276

Research around practice partnerships: an example of building partnerships to address overweight and obesity in children

Anne A. Poulsen, Robert Bush, Joleen Tirendi, Jenny Ziviani, Rebecca Abbott, Doune Macdonald,

Matthew A. Brown and Gary M. Leong 285

Integrating health planning and social planning: a case study in community-based partnerships for better health

Aleta Ambrose and Patricia Short 294

Which comes first: the partnership or the tool? Reflections on the effective use of partnership tools in local health partnerships

Naomi Sunderland, Debra Domalewski, Elizabeth Kendall and Kylie Armstrong 303

RESEARCH

General practitioner networks matter in primary health care team service provision

Lucio Naccarella 312

Health partnerships: perspectives of medical practitioners in general practice, health systems and hospital settings

Elizabeth Kendall, Carolyn Ehrlich, Megan Young, Heidi Muenchberger, Ken Wilkie and Carole Rushton 319

Better than nothing? Restrictions and realities of enhanced primary care for allied health professionals

Michele M. Foster, Petrea L. Cornwell, Jennifer M. Fleming, Geoffrey K. Mitchell, Sean M. Tweedy,

Alison L. Hart and Terry P. Haines 326

Rural children referred for conduct problems: evaluation of a collaborative program

Michelle Carr Swift, Leigh Roeger, Cathy Walmsley, Sara Howard, Gareth Furber and Stephen Allison 335

Improving coordination of care for Aboriginal people with mental health, alcohol and drug use problems: progress report on an ongoing collaborative action research project

Inge Kowanko, Charlotte de Crespigny, Helen Murray, Jackie Ah Kit, Colleen Prideaux, Harry Miller,

David Mills and Carolyn Emden 341

BOOK REVIEWS

The Green Bookshop

Reviewed by Priscilla Robinson 348