

Contents

Volume 44      Issue 3      2022

RESEARCH PAPERS

- Can dingoes increase graziers' profits and help maintain Australia's rangelands?
G. Campbell, A. Emmott, D. Pollock and B. J. Traill 129
- Interactions among climate, topography, soil structure and rangeland aboveground net primary production
Samaneh Mohammadi Moghaddam, Eric Gordon Lamb, Ardavan Ghorbani, Hossein Arzani, Javanshir Azizi Mobaser and Raoof Mostafazadeh 137
- An objective prioritisation method for agriculture RD&E
Geoffry Fordyce, Dave R. Smith, Nigel R. Perkins and Michael R. McGowan 149
- Predicted effects of simulated ambient warming and moisture on forage nutrient quality and community composition in Mongolian arid grassland
Yu Yoshihara, Ryoga Aoki, Takehiro Sasaki and Toshihiko Kinugasa 159
- Environmental drivers of above-ground biomass in semi-arid Rangelands
Neda Kaveh, Ataollah Ebrahimi and Esmail Asadi 165
- Hydrology and runoff water quality from three improved pastures compared with virgin brigalow (Acacia harpophylla) woodland over eight years in semi-arid Australia
Amanda Elledge and Craig Thornton 177

