

Call for expressions of interest: Associate Editors of Sexual Health

Sexual Health is seeking Associate Editors to join the editorial committee. The journal publishes original and significant contributions to the fields of sexual health including HIV/AIDS, sexually transmissible infections, issues of sexuality and relevant areas of reproductive health. This journal is directed towards those working in sexual health as clinicians, public health practitioners, researchers in behavioural, clinical, laboratory, public health or social, sciences. Sexual Health is published by CSIRO Publishing.

Editors-in-Chief determine the publishing strategy of the journal, and lead a team of Associate Editors to manage the peer review process of papers received by the journal.

More specifically, Associate Editors:

1. Manage timely, rigorous and constructive peer-review of articles by a broad range of appropriately chosen international referees
2. Correspond with referees, and authors, in a courteous and respectful manner
3. Make recommendations on manuscripts according to the editorial direction set by the Editors-in-Chief
4. Promote the Journal and encourage high quality submissions
5. Represent the Journal to the research community at conferences, visits to institutions, etc.

Associate Editors have editorial support from CSIRO Publishing, including access to a web-based editorial management system and a dedicated Editorial Assistant based within CSIRO Publishing.

Associate Editors receive a personal subscription to the Journal as a token of appreciation and a small honorarium per paper they manage through review.

Expression of interest and request for further information can be made to Brietta Pike at brietta.pike@csiro.au
