

PACIFIC CONSERVATION BIOLOGY

Volume 22 • Issue 3 • 2016

CONTENTS

‘Faunal species conservation in the Melanesian Pacific Islands’ special issue

EDITORIAL

Species conservation in the Pacific Islands: taking effective steps forward

G. Brodie, C. Miller, H. Pippard and T. Kami

201

REVIEW

Diversity and current conservation status of Melanesian–New Zealand placostyline land snails

(Gastropoda : Bothriembryontidae), with discussion of conservation imperatives, priorities and methodology issues

G. M. Barker, G. Brodie, L. Bogitini and H. Pippard

203

RESEARCH PAPERS

Factors affecting frog density in the Solomon Islands

P. Pikacha, C. Filardi, C. Morrison and L. Leung

223

Freshwater ichthyofauna of the Pacific-Asia Biodiversity Transect (PABITRA) Gateway in Viti Levu, Fiji

L. K. F. Copeland, D. T. Boseto and A. P. Jenkins

236

Discovery of an important aggregation area for endangered scalloped hammerhead sharks, Sphyrna lewini, in the Rewa River estuary, Fiji Islands

K. T. Brown, J. Seeto, M. M. Lal and C. E. Miller

242

Disappearing jewels: an urgent need for conservation of Fiji’s partulid tree snail fauna

G. Brodie, G. M. Barker, H. Pippard, C. S. Bick and D. Ó Foighil

249

Placing the Fijian Honeyeaters within the meliphagid radiation: implications for origins and conservation

M. Yabaki, R. C. Winkworth, P. A. McLenachan, W. Aalbersberg, L. Winder, S. A. Trewick and P. J. Lockhart

262

Cetacean diversity, common occurrence and community importance in Fijian waters

C. Miller, A. Batibasaga, P. Chand, S. Dulunaqio, M. Fox, S. Jupiter, W. Naisilisili, Y. Nand, S. Sharma-Gounder and B. Smith

272

Population genetic structure of the goby Stiphodon rutilaureus (Gobiidae) in the New Georgia Group, Solomon Islands

D. T. Boseto, S. J. Furiness Magnuson and F. L. Pezold

281