

Contents

List of contributors vii

Image credits xi

Prologue: a continental perspective xii

Libby Robin and Mike Smith

Welcome to Iningai country xviii

David Thompson

PART 1: PLACE

1 Arriving in the Desert Channels country xxii

Chris Dickman

2 Alice Duncan-Kemp (Pinningarra) and the history of the frontier 24

Tom Griffiths

3 Connecting with our land 44

Karen Emmott

4 Pituri country 60

Mike Letnic and Luke Keogh

INTERLUDE I

Landscape studies 2007: environmental projects and the impulse to conserve 80

Mandy Martin

PART 2: LANDSCAPE

5 The story of our land revealed through plants 90

Glenda Wardle

6 Mystery and marvel: the invertebrate animal world 106

Steve Morton

7 Channel country rivers: the pulse of life 124

Julian Reid

8 Artesian springs 144

Rod Fensham

INTERLUDE II

Landscape studies 2008: aesthetic evaluation as an environmental tool 160

Mandy Martin

PART 3: BIODIVERSITY

9 Mammals and birds: life on the move 170

Chris Dickman and Max Tischler

10 Reptiles, amphibians and fish: going with the flow 192

Chris Dickman and Mike Letnic

11 Dragons, diprotodons, dinosaurs and dust:
150 million years of Desert Channels prehistory 210

Scott Hocknull and Alex Cook

12 Creating a herbarium for Cravens Peak 224

Max Bourke

INTERLUDE III

Landscape studies 2009: painting in place 238

Mandy Martin

PART 4: LIVELIHOOD

13 Conserving desert Australian livelihoods 248

Mark Stafford Smith

14 The forum is a campfire, the river is a story 264

Luke Keogh

15 Production lands, philanthropy and biodiversity 284

Guy Fitzhardinge

16 Conservation science: here and beyond 300

Libby Robin

INTERLUDE IV

Listening to the land: Encounter documentary of zebra finches at Ocean Bore (CD at back of book)

Richard Nelson and Steve Morton

Further reading 318

Index 321