Navigate health law issues

Designed specifically for senior medical staff, health administrators and managers, QUT's new Graduate Certificate in Applied Law (Health) gives you the expertise you need to navigate legal mine fields in health law.

You can choose from more than 15 units to tailor your learning to your work environment with a range of areas including capacity and guardianship, genetic technologies, conception and birth, biotechnology law, children's health, health economics, quality management and risk management.

And you'll be taught by lecturers who not only wrote the book on health law in Australia, but understand the clinical context.

Finish in just one year, part time. Many units are taught online and are available as standalone units for professional development.

When 'it's time' to make that decisive improvement to your organisation or services, here are what clients and colleagues say about the value and return on investment that Professor Philip Darbyshire brings:

As a Consultant:

"We knew who would be the perfect person to help us, Professor Philip Darbyshire. The "Darbyshire Report" has been an invaluable investment for our organisation, giving us a vital, 'fresh eyes', perspective almost impossible to obtain 'internally'. Thanks to Philip's insightful findings and ongoing involvement, we are taking Rainbow Place to the next level. Without a 'Philip Darbyshire Review', you may never know just how great your service could become.'" Elizabeth Bang, CEO, Hospice Waikato & Rainbow Place Children & Young People's Service (Winner: National 'Every Child Counts' Award 2011)

"Professor Darbyshire's review has been critical to identifying a coherent and well articulated strategy to strengthen the research performance of the School. I know of few other consultants with the experience and ability to complete a hard edged review of this kind while engaging with concerns and developing real enthusiasm amongst staff about the challenges and opportunities for research development in the School. The review represents a real turning point for the School and we thank Philip for his extraordinary contribution." Professor Paul Arbon, Dean, School of Nursing & Midwifery, Flinders University

As a Thought Leader in Nursing and Health Care:

"Philip is the 'go-to person' for hospitals and health care organizations across the world who want research and evidence-based practice demystified and moved out of the 'too-hard basket' and into the hearts and minds of clinicians who will use it make a real difference". ACHSM

"Nurse leaders and health organisations everywhere would benefit immensely from Philip's insightful and practical approaches to improving our services". Association for Leaders in Nursing, UK

"Your work on the possibilities of nursing, and the advances in the design of care taken together represent the basis for a more confident and humane approach to policy development and service design which must result in people receiving a standard of care which recognises their inherent humanity and dignity" Professor June Andrews, former Head of Modernisation at NHS Scotland

"Your work at Princess Alexandra Hospital was the pivotal point in creating a research culture in nursing." Prof. Joy Vickerstaff, former Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer, ACT

As a Speaker:

"Philip Darbyshire needs to present and share his wisdom with every student nurse, every professional nurse, every nurse educator and anyone associated with health care. So much has entered my brain; but much more has been imprinted on my heart."

"Awesome speaker"
"Dynamite speaker! Find a way to bring him back to visit each OHSU campus."
"Best speaker ever - most useful info... what a breath of fresh air he was in all this academia!"
- Nurse Education Conference, Oregon, USA

"Absolutely brilliant. Witty, informative, a really inspiring presentation"
"Outstanding look at human spirit - honesty, bravery, essence - an extraordinary human being"
"So good I can't put into words"
"After listening to PD I believe in cloning!"
"Fantastic! Very moving & informative"
"His depth of understanding is outstanding - his words will stay with me forever."
"Inspiring. Enthusiastic. Outstanding."
"Absolutely magnificent - inspirational and so powerful"
- Ronald MacDonald House Charities, International Conference, Adelaide

"Your overall contribution far exceeded our expectations. We have now collated our participant evaluations and found that their responses echo ours. Your overall feedback score out of a possible total of 5 was a remarkable 4.75! We look forward to any opportunities for working with you in the future."
- Child & Family Health Nurses Conference, Adelaide

"Inspiring and passionate"
"What an inspiration"
"Wonderful speaker enjoyed the presentation so much. Very relevant."
"Phillip once again brilliantly entertaining, cuts to the chase and reminds us about our role in positive health care experiences"
"Mesmerizing. A truly fascinating and inspiring session"
"Empowering presentation"
"Inspiring and entertaining at the same time."
- 'Passionate about Practice' 2010 Conference, Brisbane

Let's talk about how we can join forces to bring this kind of value to your Hospital, School, Health Service or NGO. The best time to begin an improvement process is always right now. Prof. Philip Darbyshire

THE QUANTUM LEAP

Measurement: redefining Health's boundaries?

Proudly sponsored by

AUSTRALIAN COMMISSION
ON SAFETY AND QUALITY IN HEALTH CARE

Following the success of The Great Healthcare Challenge in 2011, the Australian Council on Healthcare Standards (ACHS) and the Australian Healthcare and Hospitals Association (AHHA) will join forces with the Women's and Children's Hospitals Australasia in 2012 to bring you – The Quantum Leap. Measurement: redefining Health's boundaries?

Whether you work in a healthcare facility or department as a clinician, a clinical leader, a manager or executive, a finance officer or an information officer you are required to measure and assess your outcome. The National Health Reform is set to put this part of your job under scrutiny. This Conference will be exceedingly beneficial and stimulating.

How do we measure individual patient outcomes or population health status? How do we relate financial performance to both utilisation and quality? Do we collect and link our data efficiently to reduce the red tape burden? How will the National Standards, mandatory from 1st January 2013, influence our administrative and clinical priorities? How will the national entities such as the National Health Performance Authority (NHPA), the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW) and the Independent Hospital Pricing Authority (IHPA) plus their state counterparts rationalise their roles? How will they incentivise good performance?

This conference will discuss these questions and highlight the views of key stakeholders.

A collaboration of the Australian Council on Healthcare Standards (ACHS), the Australian Healthcare and Hospitals Association (AHHA) and the Women's and Children's Hospitals Australasia (WCHA)

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This conference will appeal to a wide cross-section of the public and private healthcare sectors across rural, regional and metro areas.
