CONTENTS Volume 49, Issue 3, 2009, 177–267

A systems evaluation of high-input management using fortified molasses for beef production in Australia's dry tropics

Geoffry Fordyce, Ruth Coates, Megan Debney, Stan Haselton, Robert Rebgetz, Alan R. Laing, Neil J. Cooper, Rebecca Hall, William E. Holmes and Vivienne J. Doogan 177–191

Weather, herbage quality and milk production in pastoral systems. 1. Temporal patterns and intra-relationships in weather variables

J. R. Roche, L. R. Turner, J. M. Lee, D. C. Edmeades, D. J. Donaghy, K. A. Macdonald, J. W. Penno and D. P. Berry 192–199

Weather, herbage quality and milk production in pastoral systems. 2. Temporal patterns and intra-relationships in herbage quality and mineral concentration parameters

J. R. Roche, L. R. Turner, J. M. Lee, D. C. Edmeades, D. J. Donaghy, K. A. Macdonald, J. W. Penno and D. P. Berry 200–210

Weather, herbage quality and milk production in pastoral systems. 3. Inter-relationships and associations between weather variables and herbage growth rate, quality and mineral concentration

J. R. Roche, L. R. Turner, J. M. Lee, D. C. Edmeades, D. J. Donaghy, K. A. Macdonald, J. W. Penno and D. P. Berry 211–221

Weather, herbage quality and milk production in pastoral systems. 4. Effects on dairy cattle production

J. R. Roche, L. R. Turner, J. M. Lee, D. C. Edmeades, D. J. Donaghy, K. A. Macdonald, J. W. Penno and D. P. Berry 222–232

Grazing behaviour and pattern of intake of dairy cows grazing kikuyu (Pennisetum clandestinum) grass pastures in relation to sward height and length of grazing session

R. C. Dobos, W. J. Fulkerson, K. Sinclair and G. N. Hinch 233–238

Sire and growth-path effects on sheep meat production. 3. Fascicular structure of lamb loin muscle (m. longissimus lumborum) and the impact on eating quality

P. G. Allingham, W. Barris, A. Reverter, V. Hilsenstein, R. van de Ven and D. L. Hopkins 239–247

Evaluation of a remote drafting system for regulating sheep access to supplement

M. K. Bowen, P. M. Pepper, R. C. McPhie and M. R. Winter 248–252

Influence of dicyandiamide on nitrogen transformation and losses in cow-urine-amended soil cores from grazed pasture

Jagrati Singh, S. Saggar and N. S. Bolan 253–261

Improving growth performance of finisher pigs with high fat diets

C. L. Collins, A. C. Philpotts and D. J. Henman 262–267
