

PACIFIC CONSERVATION BIOLOGY

Volume 26 • Issue 2 • 2020

CONTENTS

OBITUARY

Tribute to Dr Barbara York Main OAM: arachnologist and nature writer (27 January 1929 to 14 May 2019)

L. D. Mason and P. L. Kennedy

iii

EDITORIAL

Should editors ever redact a reviewer's comments?

M. Calver

103

REVIEW

Conservation ecology of Tasmanian coastal saltmarshes, south-east Australia – a review

V. Prahalad, J. B. Kirkpatrick, J. Aalders, S. Carver, J. Ellison, V. Harrison-Day, P. McQuillan, B. Morrison, A. Richardson and E. Woehler

105

RESEARCH PAPER

Watching the tide roll away – contested interpretations of the nature of the Lower Lakes of the Murray–Darling

P. A. Gell

130

PERSPECTIVE

The predominantly fresh history of Lake Alexandrina, South Australia, and its implications for the Murray–Darling Basin Plan: a comment on Gell (2020)

J. Tibby, D. Haynes and K. Muller

142

RESEARCH PAPERS

Notes on the cultural value, biology and conservation status of the Data Deficient Tagula butcherbird

(Cracticus louisianensis Tristram, 1889)

W. Goulding, P. Moss and C. A. McAlpine

150

Dry forests of the Galápagos: a comparative assessment of a World Heritage Site

T. W. Gillespie, G. Keppel, C. M. Robinson and G. Rivas-Torres

161

Using the scientific listing process to better understand climate change risk to threatened species and ecological communities in New South Wales

C. A. Laws, N. Hancock and M. R. Leishman

173

Averting danger under the bridge: video confirms that adult small-toothed morays tolerate salinity before and during tidal influx

B. C. Ebner, J. A. Donaldson, R. Courtney, R. Fitzpatrick, D. Starrs, C. S. Fletcher and J. Seymour

182

Countering low visibility in video survey of an estuarine fish assemblage

J. A. Donaldson, P. Drews, Jr, M. Bradley, D. L. Morgan, R. Baker and B. C. Ebner

190

RESEARCH NOTES

The boy can dance: ritual courtship of the opal cling goby

B. C. Ebner and D. J. Kemp

201

Extension of the historic range of Pristis pristis on the east coast of Australia

J. L. Hudgins, M. C. Bell and B. E. Wueringer

204

FIELD NOTE

Two years of impairment: plastic packing strap on a bull shark (Carcharhinus leucas) in Fiji

J. M. Brunnschweiler and N. D. Marosi

208

Book review	210
Corrigendum to: Watching the tide roll away – contested interpretations of the nature of the Lower Lakes of the Murray Darling Basin	211
Corrigendum to: Extension of the historic range of Pristis pristis on the east coast of Australia	212